*Dr. Jay Stein to lecture Oct. 29 on diabetic diseases of the kidney.

DALLAS--Dr. Jay Stein of The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio will be the Mr. and Mrs. I.G. Bromberg Visiting Professor of Medicine at The University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas Oct. 26-30.

Stein, who is chairman of the Department of Medicine at the San Antonio facility, will deliver a lecture on "Diabetic Nephropathy" (kidney disease resulting from diabetes) on Thursday, Oct. 29 from 11 a.m. until noon in room D1.502 at UTHSCD.

After receiving his M.D. degree from the University of Tennessee Medical College, Stein completed an internship at State University of Iowa Hospital in Iowa City. He was a Renal Fellow at Southwestern Medical School in the late '60s.

Kidney disorders have been of special interest to Stein for more than 20 years. He has published numerous articles and textbook chapters on the subject of nephrology. Stein has also served on committees of several national organizations related to kidney and heart disease research.

Currently, Stein serves as a committee chairman for the American Society of Nephrology.

The Bromberg Visiting Professorship was established in memory of Mr. and Mrs. I.G. Bromberg by their daughters Minna Bromberg and Mrs. Essie Bromberg Joseph. The professorship brings an outstanding physician to the campus for one week each year for lectures and rounds in the Department of Internal Medicine.
