DALLAS--The University of Texas School of Allied Health Sciences at Dallas is conducting orientation sessions to acquaint counselors and students with its educational programs.

Kamal El-Din, assistant dean for Student Affairs, said one session was held at Nimitz High School in Irving; another will be at 8:30 a.m. at Eastfield College on Sept. 24; and at 1:30 p.m. Sept. 29 at the Dallas Independent School District administration building at 3700 Ross Ave.

"We hope the program will help students and counselors be aware of the eight programs of the School of Allied Health Sciences," said El-Din. He said additional counseling sessions to fit individual needs may be arranged at the meetings.
