DALLAS -- Faculty members in the department of anesthesiology of The University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas will shortly begin the third year of providing top leadership for the prestigious national Board of Governors of the American College of Anesthesiologists.

Dr. M.T. Jenkins, professor and chairman of anesthesiology at Southwestern, will take office next October as chairman of the Board, a 15-member examining body that passes on qualifications of anesthesiologists throughout the nation.

Dr. Jenkins will succeed Dr. C. Ronald Stephen, professor of anesthesiology at Southwestern, in the Board chairmanship. And the past chairman is Dr. Thomas K. Burnap, also a professor at the Dallas school.
