DALLAS--Dr. Alexander Leaf, a well-known kidney specialist, will lecture at The University of Texas Southwestern Medical School Nov. 29-Dec. 3 as the Mr. and Mrs. I.G. Bromberg Visiting Professor of Medicine.

Dr. Leaf is the Jackson Professor of Clinical Medicine at Harvard Medical School and the chief of medical service at Massachusetts General Hospital.

A cum laude graduate of The University of Michigan Medical School, Dr. Leaf has been a member of the Harvard medical faculty since 1951. He is the author of more than 100 major scientific articles and is a member of the American Society of Nephrology and the International Society of Nephrology, along with numerous other organizations.

Hosted by Southwestern's Department of Internal Medicine, Dr. Leaf will conduct medical grand rounds, lectures and seminars with medical faculty, students and hospital staff during his five-day visit. He is one of the outstanding physicians annually invited to the medical school under the Bromberg professorship.

Southwestern Medical School is a component of The University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas.
