U.T. School of Allied Health to host high school career day

DALLAS--All Dallas-area high school students and counselors are invited to attend the "Allied Health Career Day" on April 5, sponsored by the Dallas County Medical Society Auxiliary in conjunction with the School of Allied Health Sciences of The University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas.

The event, spotlighting health career opportunities, will take place in Gooch Auditorium on the health science center campus, 5323 Harry Hines, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Health career areas to be represented are clinical dietetics, gerontology services, medical technology, physical therapy and athletic training, physician assistants, prosthetics and orthotics, rehabilitation counseling, allied health education, medical illustration, dental hygiene, occupational therapy and speech pathology.

A booth will be manned by instructors and students on each of these professional areas. Practical advice will be provided on the high school level. Also, there will be a 23-minute film entitled "Allied Health Today," presented every hour inside the auditorium.
