DALLAS--An internationally-known geneticist will outline "Prospects for Monitoring Human Mutations" at the third annual Graduate Student Research Forum at The University of Texas Southwestern Medical School Wednesday.

The speaker, Dr.H.Eldon Sutton, is professor of genetics at The University of Texas at Austin and author of a number of textbooks in the field.

Nine graduate students at UTSMS are scheduled to present scientific papers beginning at 1:30 p.m. in the school's second floor lecture room. They are F.Michael Schultz, John T.Watson, H.L.Wyatt, Ann Jacob Stocker, Nichole Pasteur, Mary Jo Evans Harrod, Sally Jo Rubin, William A.Nagle and C.Dale Dodd.

Dr.Parkhurst Shore, Associate Dean for Graduate Studies, will introduce the scientific program and Dr.Mary Esther Gaulden, Emma Freeman Associate Professor of Radiology, will preside.

The forum is sponsored by the Sigma Xi Club, a national organization of basic researchers.
