*****Heart Career Day at
Health Science Center.

Heart Career Day, an annual event for high school students interested in exploring medical/scientific careers, will bring over 100 Dallas area visitors to the campus of The UT Health Science Center at Dallas Saturday, March 27 from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Also participating will be 200 students with the Texas Allied Health Careers convention who will be meeting in Arlington that week.

The joint event is sponsored by the center and the American Heart Association, Dallas Chapter.

Visual possibilities at noon (11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.) include students viewing Dallas Fire Department ambulances; having their blood pressure checked; visiting with UT medical, graduate and allied health students, as well as firemen paramedics; and visiting a nutrition booth and sampling low-cholesterol cheese and cookies.
