REPOSITORY HIGHLIGHTS—WORLDWIDE

Ballarat Health Services Digital Repository

http://bhsdigitalrepository.bhs.org.au/bhsjspui/

This is the digital repository of Ballarat Health Services which seeks to capture its intellectual output, preserve its historical material, store and provide access to the organisation's digital content. Content includes articles, unpublished works, books, and multimedia.

KOBRA (Kasseler OnlineBibliothek, Repository und Archiv)—Institutional Repository of Universität Kassel (Kassel, Germany)

https://kobra.bibliothek.uni-kassel.de/

This site is a university repository providing access to the publication output of the institution. The site interface is in a mix of German and English (instructions in the former and menu options in the latter). The site is well supported with background information and guidance documentation. Content includes articles, conferences, theses, unpublished works, books, and learning objects.

REPOSITORY HIGHLIGHTS—NATIONAL

Harvard Dataverse

http://thedata.harvard.edu/dvn/

This is a repository for sharing, citing, and preserving research data. It is free and open to all researchers. Content includes datasets.

BigMouth Dental Data Repository

https://cohri.uth.tmc.edu/

This repository contains de-identified EHR data contributed by dental schools who are part of a consortium. Access is only available to data contributors within particular institutions. Among the contributing institutions are Harvard, Tufts University, The University of California, San Francisco, The University of Pittsburgh, UTHealth.

REPOSITORY HIGHLIGHTS—TEXAS

UT Digital Repository (UTDR)

http://repositories.lib.utexas.edu/

Providing access to the output of the institution, this repository has over 27,000 items. Content includes articles, conference materials, theses, and more. Statistics for items is publicly-viewable, allowing users to see information about top cities and countries accessing content, as well as monthly visit counts and file access counts.

Texas A&M Repository

http://repository.tamu.edu/

Providing access to the publication output of the institution, this repository allows registered users to set up email alerts to notify them of newly-added relevant content. Content includes articles, conferences, theses, unpublished items, books, learning objects, multimedia and more.

DIGITALCOMMONS@The Texas Medical Center

http://digitalcommons.library.tmc.edu/

This repository provides access to the publication output of this center. It includes a paper of the day. After registering, any user can set up email alerts or an RSS feed to notify them of newly-added relevant content. Statistics and reports are available to individual researchers. Content includes articles and theses.

REPOSITORY DIRECTORY

OpenDOAR http://www.opendoar.org/
Use this site to locate other repositories by subject area, country, language, content type, or repository type. Although repositories within this directory are publicly-accessible, access to content within each repository varies by institution.

WORKFLOW TOOLS

SHERPA/RoMEO http://www.sherpa.ac.uk/romeo/
Use this site to find a summary of permissions that are normally given as part of each publisher's copyright transfer agreement. Journal information is provided by various sources; the Entrez journal list is provided by NCBI.

AUTHOR IDENTIFIERS

ORCID http://orcid.org/
This provides a persistent digital identifier that distinguishes you from every other researcher and, through integration in key research workflows such as manuscript and grant submission, supports automated linkages between you and your professional activities ensuring that your work is recognized. Use of ORCID identifiers for the ETD submission system used by UT Southwestern is currently under development through the Texas Digital Library.

UT SOUTHWESTERN INSTITUTIONAL REPOSITORY RESOURCES

Texas Digital Library (TDL)
https://www.tdl.org/
This is a consortium of libraries that works together to support greater access to the riches of Texas academic institutions. Services include institutional repositories, Vireo (an ETD submission system), electronic journal systems supporting online, peer-reviewed journals, WordPress sites and blogs, and online conference management (using Open Conference Systems). UT Southwestern has been a member since 2007.

UT Southwestern Institutional Repository home
