DEAN GILL HONORED

Dr. A. J. Gill has been named the recipient of the Marchman Award. In 1941, the Dallas Southern Clinical Society created an award to be bestowed on the Dallas physician who merited recognition for research or contribution to the advancement of medicine. The Marchman award was so named in honor of the late Dr. Oscar Marchman, Sr., who was the first President of the Dallas Southern Clinical Society. Dr. Gill was selected as recipient for outstanding leadership in medical education administration.

STUDENT WIVES CLUB

The Student Wives Club has organized the Annual Student-Faculty Dinner around a Sixth Century theme and promises a full 20th Century evening of dining, entertainment and dancing.

The setting is the Holiday Inn on North Central Expressway and the date is Saturday, March 26, 1966.

Dining will be buffet style and will begin at 6:00 p.m. Sneak previews of the evening's entertainment have received rave reviews. The Pete Ceza Combo will provide music for dancing immediately after the skits.

The "Night at King Arthur's Round Table" will present a fine evening of entertainment and all who can attend are heartily invited.

MEDICAL EXTERNSHIPS

The Department of Psychiatry is offering Clinical and Research externships to medical students for the summer months. Anyone interested in obtaining an externship should write Dr. R. L. Stubblefield.

PHYSICAL MEDICINE AND REHABILITATION HAS NEW CHAIRMAN

Dr. Richard D. Burk has recently joined the Southwestern Faculty to become Chairman of the Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Department.

Dr. Burk was born in Denver, Colorado. He received his B.S. from Regis College and went on to receive his M.D. degree from Creighton University. Dr. Burk also has an M.S. degree awarded from Ohio State University where he was Associate Professor and Director of the Rehabilitation Center at the time of his appointment to the Southwestern Staff.

Dr. Burk has served on a number of boards and foundations concerned with the handicapped and crippled. His research interests have ranged from measurement of conduction velocity in human motor nerves to diagnosis of hysterical paralysis.

We are proud to have a man of Dr. Burk's stature joining the Southwestern Faculty and extend our warmest welcome to him.

GALVESTON - TMA RESEARCH

Application forms for the Annual Student Research Forum at the Medical Branch to be held April 29, 1966, are now available on the SAMA bulletin board across from the Registrar's Office.

The Texas Medical Association is sponsoring a new annual award of $300 for the best scientific article prepared by a medical student in Texas. Deadline for entries is May 1. The winning entry will be published in Texas Medicine.

T.W.U. EXPANSION

Construction has begun on the new teaching facilities at Texas Women's University. Located just over the hill in front of the Medical School, the new building will provide both classrooms and housing for nursing students. This construction will nearly double the nurse-training capacity of T.W.U. in this area. Space presently utilized by the nursing students will be converted to much needed additional "on-call rooms", etc. The new program is a welcome addition to our medical center.

PRESBYTERIAN HOSPITAL

Presbyterian Hospital, a new general hospital of about 300 beds, is nearing completion in anticipation of its upcoming operation sometime in May. It is the desire of the trustees that this be a teaching facility. A working academic relationship between Presbyterian and SWMS will be established in the near future.

"LIGHTS - OUT"

Yes, the lights are out...outside, that is. The new lighting of the campus grounds has been installed. Electrical supply was established via underground cables so as not to detract from the beauty of the campus. Recently on dark nights, students, faculty and other SWMS personnel have gratefully noted the daylight brilliance designed for their comfort, security and safety.

SITE STUDY

The long range developmental plans for SWMS are under study by the consulting architects of the University of Texas. The report of their findings is expected in the next two to three months.

STUDENT UNION FITTED OUT

Furnishings for the Skillern Student Union have been largely completed with the addition of a color TV set. The Exercise Room provides weights, benches, ropes, mats, and for those planning to enter the Tour de France, and Exercycle-Bicycle. Lockers are still available for those who desire the proper attire for using the weights, etc.
