**Allied health students present health fair at Los Barrios Unidos April 16.

DALLAS--A Health Fair for the community will be held at Los Barrios Unidos Clinic, 3314 Sylvan, April 16 from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m. Health examinations and information will be provided by students from the School of Allied Health Sciences at The University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas.

Anyone attending the fair may have height, weight, blood pressure, vision and teeth checked. These exams are free.

For $8 a blood sample will be tested for 12 items -- including hemoglobin, hematocrit, white blood cell count, sodium and potassium.

There will be a nutrition booth and a Planned Parenthood booth. The fair is free and open to the public. There will be Spanish interpreters.

Students participating are from the Physician Assistants, Allied Health Education and Nutrition/Dietetics programs of SAHS.

This Health Fair is a part of Healthworks, sponsored by KXAS-TV, American Red Cross and the National Health Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations.
