DALLAS--A mini-seminar on the latest developments in cancer research and treatment will be given for American Cancer Society volunteers, donors and interested persons at The University of Texas Health Science Center Sunday, February 29. The program, which is sponsored by the Texas Division of the society, the center and the Community Cancer Program, will begin at 3:00 p.m.

Master of ceremonies will be Mike Shapiro of WFAA-TV, who is one of the local chairmen of this year's Cancer Crusade. Speaking will be Creighton Edwards, M.D., on gynecological cancer, Eugene P. Frenkel, M.D., on chemotherapy and Russell Prough, Ph.D., on clinical research. All three are center faculty members.

Tours of research labs and center facilities will be held from 1:30-3:00 and 3:45-5:00 p.m.

For information call (214) 688-3403.
