DALLAS-- Dr. John S. Chapman, assistant dean for postgraduate education at The University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas, has been appointed to the National Advisory Radiological Health Council.

The council, established by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, advises the National Center for Radiological Health, reviews research and training grant applications and recommends projects for improvement of radiological health.

Dr. Chapman's was one of nine appointments to the council announced by Center Director James G. Terrill, Jr.
