DALLAS--Dr. Morris Ziff, professor of internal medicine and chief of the Rheumatic Diseases Unit at The University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas, will be the principal lecturer at the 45th annual McGuire Lecture Series of the Medical College of Virginia of Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond.

As this year's McGuire Lecturer, Dr. Ziff will discuss "Immunological Aspects of Rheumatoid Arthritis" and "Viruses and the Connective Tissue Diseases" during the two-day postgraduate course on immunology and rheumatic disease Nov. 8 and 9. The Dallas professor is a widely recognized authority on these crippling diseases.

About 200 practicing physicians, medical students and nurses will attend the series, established in memory of Dr. Stuart McGuire, former president of MCV.
